

Header Image

Friday, October 26, 2018 3:46 PM

Start your email off with a striking image to capture your viewers attention!

This widget allows you to pull in a full width photo. The width of the photo should be 600 pixels to properly fit this widget. The height depends on how tall you want the image to be, or what works best with the photo you chose!

Configuring this widget is as simple as selecting an image from your media library to use.

If you would like text on the image--that needs to be done in photoshop or a similar application. Unfortunately, not all email browsers support text laid over an image. So in order to have the best looking email for all your customers, please put text over a photo first!

If text is desired on the Header Image, the image must contain text before uploading. Email browsers do not support text laid over an image in an email if it is not already in the image itself.
